Brief summary of a letter from Franck Delage concerning the site of la Combe. Mentions that the artifacts found there represent the final Magdalenian and the Azilean and that the site was dug by Delage himself. The mound of the site was identified as an oppidum by M. P. Barrière but Delage disagrees with this hypothesis.