Moving a family of pages from one space to another

To move page families, you require ‘Create Pages’ permission for each page in that family. Space Permissions are assigned by a space administrator from the Space Administration screens.

Confluence allows you to move pages around by dragging and dropping them on a tree view. When you move the parent page of a family of pages, all of its child and descendant pages are automatically moved too, along with all attachments and comments on those pages.

To move an entire family of pages, you can:

- Move the page family to a new space, if that's what you want. You do this while either viewing or editing the parent page.
- Move the page family to a new position in the space's tree view. You do this while either viewing or editing the parent page or while viewing the space's Tree view.
