Lab Policies

In order for our lab to function successfully, it is critical that each lab member adheres to a standardized set of practices and procedures. Please read each of the policies below closely, and let your lab manager know if you have any questions.