Disbursement

General Information:
- The Disbursement page provides a summary view, at the Aid Year level, of the Financial Aid Offered, Accepted and Disbursed Amounts.
- The facts included on this page are part of the ‘Award Disbursement Detail’ folder of the ‘SIS - Financial Aid Award Disbursement’ subject area.
  - The ‘Award Disbursement Detail’ folder contains facts from the PS_NYU_F_FA_AWARD_DISB model / table.

Prompt Filters:
- By default the page has the following prompt filters (which can be adjusted):
  - Aid Year = between 2012 to the current aid year.
- Users have the capability of choosing specific criteria based off of the following prompts:
  - Degree Level - a means to group together degrees by level of study.
  - Plan Reporting School - the school associated with the Plan Reporting Department in NYU's Reporting Department Crosswalk.

"Financial Aid by Source" report:
- The analysis shows the offered, accepted and disbursed amounts for financial aid sources:
  - Federal - financial aid provided by the U.S. federal government.
  - Institutional - endowment, alumni, or external monies for which the institution determines the recipient or the dollar amount awarded.
  - Private - private loans, also known as alternative loans, can be taken out as a supplement to federal financial aid. Students who have used up their Pell Grant money and taken out the maximum allotted amount in federal Perkins and Stafford Loans (need-based loans) may borrow additional funds from a private lender.
  - State - grants and scholarships offered to New York State residents. The application is made directly to the state and grants are awarded by the state, the amount each student is expected to receive is estimated and taken into account by NYU when assembling the student's financial aid package.
- The analysis can be viewed by Graph and Pivot Table.

"Financial Aid by Type" report:
- The analysis shows the offered, accepted and disbursed amounts for financial aid types:
  - Bursary - a bursary is a monetary award that is granted on the basis of financial need. Bursaries are different than scholarships. Scholarships are merit-based and are awarded for academic achievement. Bursaries are financial-need based awards that do not have to be repaid.
  - Fellowship - this merit-based award considers student achievement as well as financial hardship. Students are evaluated based on short answer responses, academic standing, and their internship and volunteer experiences. Some fellowships provide for payment of tuition and required fees in addition to the stipend.
  - Grant - Grants are a type of financial aid that does not have to be repaid. Offered by the federal and state government, as well as by some institutions, grants may be merit-based, need-based or student-specific.
  - Loan - offered by both the federal government and private institutions, loans are money that students borrow to attend college. Students must repay your loans with interest. Loans provide students and families with immediate access to funds to help cover the cost of college.
  - Scholarship - Like grants, scholarships do not require repayment. They are typically offered by individual institutions and private organizations and can be awarded based on a number of factors, such as academic performance, athletic ability, religious affiliation, and race, among others.
  - Waiver - an exemption or a waiver is a 3rd party payment of all or part of a student's tuition and fee bill (they don't need to be paid back).
  - Work/Study - a work-study program is a work program where a student can earn money that helps to pay for school. Work-study programs provide students with federally funded jobs on campus or at other approved locations.
